

Heena Patel
University of Hamburg,
Grindelberg 5,
20144 Hamburg

Dear Committee Member,

I am Heena Patel PhD student at University of Hamburg in Numerical Methods in GeoSciences group. I am working on multiscale Finite Element method in Earth System Model. The summer school in Reading is quite interesting to me to get to know various topic and gain practical experience at the same time. I applying for this summer school for the topic I am interested, and also it was written that there is funding available. I do not want to ask funding from my project, since this year they are already going to pay me for my conference that would be held in Greece. Also, mostly I like to attend programs that are funded from host university or from project fund. It would be great if I get funded for summer school then only I will attend this summer school.

Regards,

Heena